Indiana Page is Up and Running

For our Indiana clients, we apologize for giving Ohio all of our attention. We have now updated our website to include legal documents regarding the rulings for Indiana, i.e. Stay at Home order, unemployment, Indiana Department of Health page, etc. We will keep you posted. We continue to search and gather for more information.

Carrier Updates: Daily Updates are Archived

Our site is constantly changing because the information is constantly changing. Please visit here first to find carrier information, confirm the date for most recent details.

We have also provided all of our Daily Updates in case you missed something through our emails. Look in our Archives folder found on the MB Coronavirus Resource Center.

If you have any questions that aren't answered on this page, contact a member of your account team.
