

McGohan Brabender Daily COVID-19 Update

Today is Tuesday March 31, 2020

Our apologies for this late delivery. We waited to have the recording and PowerPoint presentation from today's webcast with Bob Dunlevey and Nadia Lampton from Taft/Law. We had well over 800 people interested in this presentation, thus the importance of this delivery.

Workplace Do's and Don'ts with Coronavirus - Webcast Link

Today at 2:00, Bob Dunlevey and Nadia Lampton of Taft/Law presented and answered pertinent information regarding COVID-19 laws and the action required by those employers affected by them. They understand the urgency to get this information out to those who could not attend due to space limitations.

DOL Exemptions for Paid Leave

Certain laws for the COVID-19 health concern will take effect on April 1st. Here at MB, we believe it is our task to provide the most current information pertaining to these laws, to you, our client. Although, please remember, we are your insurance broker, we do not specialize in Employer Law. We do have the tools to provide the specifics of these changes in plans and the laws that are driving these changes; however, we cannot offer you legal advice. Employers should review this guidance to determine whether they qualify for an exemption to the FFCRA's paid leave requirements. You should also continue to monitor the DOL's coronavirus website for the most current compliance updates.

Social Distancing Extended to Flatten the Curve

The guidelines are the same, but the finish line has been moved. Social Distancing will continue until April 30th. We must continue to stay at least six feet away from other individuals, no gathering of more than ten, and stay home as much as possible. Likewise, the CDC prevention tips remain the same, but still a great reminder.

LEADING THROUGH DISRUPTION

In this “new-Coronavirus world”, the words of Charles Darwin have never been more true: “It is not the strongest of the species that survives, nor the most intelligent, but rather the one most adaptable to change.” Spots are still available for this MB Special Webinar.

Thursday April 30th 10:00 AM -11:30 AM
