Today is Friday April 3, 2020

FFCRA REGULATIONS FOLLOWUP WEBINAR RECORDING TO BE SHARED ON MONDAY

Extreme gratitude goes out to Bob Dunlevey and Nadia Lampton of Taft/Law for taking time out of their busy days to conduct two very informative webinars concerning the numerous rules and regulations that have come from the pandemic, COVI-19. We hoped to have today's webinar link to share before distribution, alas, we will deliver on Monday April 6th. Below is the webinar recording from the first presentation as well as the PowerPoint presentations that correspond with the recording. We do apologize for the delay, but guarantee the information will be well worth the wait.

A NOTE FROM MB CEO: SCOTT McGOHAN

A longtime friend, Ed Eppley from The Eppley Group, sent me an article last night. Roaring Out of Recession was written in 2010 by The Harvard Business Review. Please take some time to read this article. From my perspective, we are doing our best to protect our businesses, our people, and our communities.

This article speaks directly to the organizations that managed a correct balance of a strong defense and a strong offense through the recession. The article was compelling, thoughtful, and gave me a new sense of optimism in a current world that is full of questions and few answers.

We are blessed by your trust in McGohan Brabender. We were built to respond; we were built to care.

CARES ACT INFOGRAPHIC

There are a lot of new acronyms flying around, and with each of these come with questions and confusion. This particular flyer shares the different aspects of the CARES Act - Coronavirus Aid Relief and Economic Security Act. This Act has five different contributions to the economic security of employers, their employees and their families. Just a quick flyer to remind what makes up the CARES Act.

ESSENTIAL WORKER LETTER SAMPLE

The Ohio stay-at-home quarantine has once again been extended, and law officials have increased the enforcement of these regulations. If your employees are considered essential and are required to come into the office, it is recommended to put a formal letter together for them as verification of that fact. Click below for an example of this communication.

MB COVID-19 RESOURCE CENTER EMPLOYER RESOURCES

Fridays always seem like slow news days, until 4:45 PM and everyone pushes something out before the weekend. We apologize that we follow suit sometimes, but do hope you take a minute to catch up on some of the links we have provided since the lock down mandate. All of the attached links and those previously shared on our daily updates can be found on the MB COVID-19 Resource Center.
