We're here for you.

Dear valued member,

We know these are challenging times, and want you to know that Anthem remains deeply committed to supporting you and the communities we serve as we join together as a nation to weather this health crisis.

A big part of our commitment to you includes making sure you won't have to worry about the cost of treating this disease. As a result, you won't have to pay for COVID-19 treatment from doctors, hospitals, and other health-care professionals in your plan's network from April 1 through May 31, 2020. Your COVID-19 testing is covered, too. You'll also pay nothing if you have a telehealth visit with a doctor in your plan through June 14, 2020.

We know you already have enough things to worry about these days. Paying for treatment for this disease shouldn't be one of them. We want you to focus on your health and care for your loved ones.

And if you need help, we're here for you.
