

McGohan Brabender Update

Today is Tuesday, May 29, 2020

HOW MUCH IS COVID-19 GOING TO COST YOUR GROUP?

We have been asked this question by many of our clients, so we knew we had to do something about it. Our Financial Analyst director created a tool, COVID-19 Impact Estimator, or what we call, Modeler. With your account management team's assistance, we can determine three different levels of results. Low/Optimistic, Mid, and High/Pessimistic. By gathering your last 12 months claim data, inputting your workforce numbers and other reported figures, this model can estimate how this pandemic and related health care deferrals will impact your business from a health care spend point of view.

As a self-funded client, we strongly urge you to reach out to a member of your MB account management team to run this analysis for your group. Together you can create a strong strategy to help you avoid bumps and bruises going forward.

We are always here for you and your employees, but especially through this ever-changing and difficult time.
